

101 Bathurst Street, Sydney

Smartly Designed Two-Bedroom Plus Study with Parking

This high-level two-bedroom apartment delivers an intelligent floorplan with genuine separation of living and accommodation zones, enhanced by floor-to-ceiling glazing and elevated city outlooks. The open-plan living and dining area is generous in scale, framed by expansive windows and opening to a covered balcony that extends the living space and captures strong natural light throughout the day. Timber flooring and clean modern finishes give the space a polished, contemporary feel.

The kitchen is centrally positioned and designed for functionality, featuring stone benchtops, gas cooking, quality appliances and ample storage, seamlessly integrated into the living zone without compromising space. Both bedrooms are well proportioned and privately positioned, with the main bedroom enjoying excellent natural light and a sleek ensuite. A separate study zone is clearly defined off the hallway, providing a practical work-from-home setup without intruding into living or bedroom areas. Complete with a secure car space, this is a well-balanced inner-city apartment offering space, flexibility and long-term livability in a tightly held CBD location.
